WHEREAS, Hays Consolidated Independent School District is celebrating the 50th anniversary of the district May 6, 2017; and
WHEREAS, the district was created through the consolidation of two fierce rivals, Buda and Kyle; and
WHEREAS, the establishment of Hays CISD brought together the two rivals, while also unifying the communities of Buda, Kyle, Wimberley, Uhland, and Niederwald in order to better serve the educational needs of children throughout northern Hays County; and
WHEREAS, in order to have a seven member board, with the consolidation of three school districts, the 21 members drew straws to see who would serve on the board, with 14 members voluntarily stepping down from service; and
WHEREAS, the new board elected Red Simon to serve as school board president, who along with board members Ted Lehman of Kyle, Ralph Pfluger of Buda, Lloyd Hennig of Buda, Robert Schneider of Niederwald, Tim Harris of Wimberley, and Raymond Czichos of Wimberley helped establish the foundation for a successful school district; and
WHEREAS, to make the consolidation between rival districts possible, the board needed to develop a leadership structure with credibility in all of the communities that it would serve; and
WHEREAS, the board was able to create this credibility by selecting William "Moe" Johnson to serve as the first superintendent; and
WHEREAS, Mr. Johnson graduated from the Buda school district and was an extremely successful basketball coach at Kyle High School, taking teams to the state tournament five out of six years, while losing only two home games at the Ernest Kimbro Building in that six year span; and
WHEREAS, Bob Shelton, as football coach, was also supported by all of the communities, and helped to reinforce the credibility of the new district having just won a regional championship the year prior; and
WHEREAS, Mr. Shelton was the embodiment of loyalty to Hays CISD, having served as head football coach for 45 years which is the record for most years as a head coach in the State of Texas; and
WHEREAS, after 50 years, Hays CISD now serves 20, 000 students on 23 campuses in northern Hays County; and
WHEREAS, the district continues to proudly partner with the communities it serves; and

WHEREAS, the district maintains a passion for having a supportive and welcoming environment in all the communities it serves; and
