

Texas Department of State Health Services Certified Food Managers Program

How do I obtain food manager certification?

The Texas Department of State Health Services, Certified Food Manager (CFM) Certification is obtained by passing a department-approved examination consisting of food safety and sanitation questions. This examination may be taken through any licensed training program; test site; national program; or online examination provider. A listing of licensed providers is available at the CFM website:

www.dshs.state.tx.us/foodestablishments/CFM.shtm

Where can I take the examination for certification?

A list of licensed food manager training programs and test sites is available on the CFM website at: www.dshs.state.tx.us/foodestablishments/CFM.shtm

Additional food manager training programs and test sites may be obtained from the national providers web-sites:

- Thomson Prometric: www.prometric.com/foodsafety
- National Registry of Food Safety Professionals: www.nrfsp.com
- National Restaurant Association, Educational Foundation: www.servsafe.com

Exams are available in English, Spanish, Chinese, Modern Chinese, Traditional Chinese, Vietnamese, Korean, Arabic, Japanese, French and French Canadian. Please see each website for information regarding specific languages offered by

Are any examinations available on the Internet?

Online examinations are available through the following licensed providers:

- Learn2Serve.com: www.learn2serve.com
Exam available in English and Spanish
- Texas Restaurant Association - FoodGuard: www.servsafe.com/foodguard/
Exam available in English
- Grayson County Health Department: FoodManagerClasses.com
Exam available in English

